

OUR TOWN

Legion members on Sunday will go to the cemeteries of Milam County and lay wreaths on the graves of their comrades who fell in the world war. No matter how busy the world may be or how much people may forget their sacrifices, Legion members, go once a year to their graves. They will keep sweet in their hearts the memory of their sacrifices and on each memorial day they will go to the resting places of their comrades, some of them in unmarked graves that dot the hill-sides where prairie flowers nod in the wind, and leave a simple wreath and the flag they followed to the last great battle ground.

These boys, both dead and living, when red battle stamped its foot and the nations felt the shock back in 1917, were heroes. We showed our devotion such as only a grateful nation could show. Now that the battle flags are furled and many of them sleep beyond the reach of the mothers who gave them, we sometimes forget how we loved them in other days. Memorial day renews our devotion and we recall with pride that they fought and their bravery was praised by the mighty warriors of the world. We will say to them on memorial day that we will wear up the torch they cast from falling hands in their hour of glory.

The enemy press said 20,000 people were in Sulphur Springs to hear the governor open her campaign for re-election. One paper said the largest crowd ever assembled in the history of Texas to hear a candidate launch a campaign for the governorship. These flattering estimates of a great political devotion may not be easily understood to those who were not there to see the demonstration. Not since the Fergusons first caught the vision of Texas democrats has there been such an outpouring of approval as the people of Hopkins county and all Texas gave them on May 22. There is something more than curious seeking individuals in a crowd like that. Surely no man ever had a greater following than Jim Ferguson and perhaps no man in all the history of Texas has equalled his appeal to the people whom smart editors have referred to as "the boys from the forks of the creek."

Speaking of folks, we notice that in every crisis faced by state or nation the common people have been relied upon and have never failed no matter what the sacrifice. Jim Ferguson has always been right in his appeal to them for they are not only the "salt of the earth" and "the boys from the forks of the creek" but make up the rank and file of the citizenship. They have called Jim Ferguson a demagogue because he appeals to the common people. They would defeat him also because he appeals to the common people and no political purpose however strong has ever been able to dislodge his devotion to them.

The fight upon the Fergusons is two fold in its operation. One element met defeat in the elections of 1924 after an unsuccessful attempt to control the party and then to destroy it; the other element is the old guard enemies of Ferguson. She had the active opposition of both in the elections of 1924 but came out in the lead, thanks to the support of the "boys from the forks of the creek" and many others who realized the import of her election. The enemies of the governor began by way of criticism of the pardon record but found that the element of Christianity is so strong in the exercise of executive clemency that they could not defy it. They began a systematic search for an issue. Much has come to light in the highway litigation that proves a well laid political plot to discredit the governor and her administration. The folks are no longer seeking explanation from the governor but they want to know something about the activities of the people who are fighting them; how it comes about that the attorney general is being supported by the American Road Company attorneys and whether the state or the road company got the best of the deal. They want to know also why it is that the party ranks breakers; the Tom Love-Hiram Evans-Butte-Sterling-Hobby influences are so active in behalf of attorney general who was recommended to the people by the Fergusons. And before the campaign is over the "folks from the forks of the creek" who have always proved

CLEAN UP CAMPAIGN HERE JUNE 1 AND 2

CITY TRUCKS TO ASSIST PROPERTY OWNERS IN CLEAN UP CAMPAIGN

The city government will have its annual clean up campaign on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 1 and 2 and all residents of the city as well as the business district is requested to co-operate in full.

The city is calling on property owners to cut the weeds on their property over the city.

The city trucks will haul away all trash. Home owners are requested to get their trash and rubbish and put same in container and set along the curbs so the city trucks can pick it up and haul to the dump grounds.

In this way the city can be made clean and sanitary with small expense, the city bearing the cost of the clean up.

This method of clean up has been observed in the past and although the campaign is under way a little late, it is hoped the clean up will be effective in every way.

Mayor Davis will issue a proclamation if necessary to direct the campaign. Wm. R. Rogers, chairman of the street committee, will direct the trucks to carry off the trash.

The city desires the fullest co-operation, especially on the part of the civic organizations of the city.

20,000 Cheer Governor in Opening Speech; Texas Largest Political Event

Estimated from 20,000 to 25,000 the largest crowd ever gathered for the opening of a campaign for the governorship, heard Miriam A. Ferguson open her campaign for the nomination for a second term at Sulphur Springs Saturday. Former Governor James E. Ferguson was cheered when he defended the administration and attached Dan Moody. The full text of the addresses of both the governor and her husband are found elsewhere in this issue.

Sulphur Springs, Texas, May 22.—One of the largest crowds that ever heard a candidate in Texas open his campaign heard governor Miriam A. and Farmer Jim Ferguson here this afternoon.

An hour before the speaking started, the tabernacle was filled and the fringe of those standing around the outside the tabernacle grew until by 2 o'clock the crowd was packed as far as the voices of the speakers could carry in every direction.

The Fergusons were in fine spirits and Jim seemed particularly exuberant over the outpouring of "boys from forks of the creek." Less than a fourth of the men present wore coats and a majority wore plain work shirts. Thousands of women plainly stamped as farm women were present. Around the speakers stand were so many old men, many of them with ear trumpets or with hands cupped to their ears, that the newspaper men were crowded out of their seats.

It was a typical Fergusonesque audience in enthusiasm as well as in dress. Every one of Ferguson's hot shots at Moody, were acclaimed with howls of applause. Usually the opening speeches of candidates are appeals to the logic of the audience and do not inspire wild applause, but Ferguson started the campaign with a mid-season speech which wore his cohorts into hoarseness by applause.

For 12 years picturesque Jim Ferguson has been drawing big political crowds in Texas, irrespective of the subsequent voting. Today as in other days, there were many in the audience who came to see the show.

Today's speaking was held in the same tabernacle where Ferguson addressed one of the biggest crowds that heard him during the famous Ferguson-Mayfield senatorial race but today's audience was easily twice the size of that which heard him then.

Two speeches featured the Ferguson opening, one by Mrs. Ferguson, in which she briefly recounted the achievements of her administration, and the other by James E. Ferguson, her husband, a former governor, who let loose the lash of his tongue against Dan Moody, young attorney general, who is seeking the gubernatorial nomination.

Mrs. Ferguson declared appropriations had been cut $10,000,000 and said the state had been put on a cash basis.

James E. Ferguson defended the pardon policy of the governor, set forth her position on the highway muddle and then lambasted Moody, declaring him to have the support of the klan, of the big oil interests and of certain religious groups.

Dallas, Texas, May 22.—Motor cavalcades from Central and West Texas began concentrating here this morning on their way to the opening of the Ferguson campaign at Sulphur Springs this afternoon.

Reports from Greenville indicated that the road between here and Sulphur Springs is filled with Ferguson enthusiasts.

The largest party was a motorcade of 35 automobiles from Bell County, headed by the Temple municipal band, which organization won the first prize at the band contest in Waco recently. The band gave a concert from 8 to 8:30 o'clock here this morning.

Hundreds of Dallas people motored to Sulphur Springs for the opening, the roads being in good condition and the weather early in the morning being perfect.

WILL DECORATE GRAVES OF WAR DEAD SUNDAY

LEGION POST TO LAY FLOWERS ON GRAVES OF FALLEN WAR COMRADES

In the out of way places, along the roadways, in cities and towns of Milam County members of the Legion on Sunday May 30 will lay wreaths on the graves of the war dead.

Many of the graves of soldiers buried in the county are in the country cemeteries where flowers grow in semblance of the poppies that flash red in Flanders. The graves, many of them are in a state of neglect.

Legion members remember their comrades who died in the world war. On the annual occurrence of memorial day each year they go to their graves and put flowers on them, keeping alive and sweet in their hearts the memory of their sacrifices.

The public in general has always been responsive to the efforts of the legion on memorial day, attending the public ceremonies and contributing flowers.

The ceremonies this year will be held on Monday. On Sunday the soldier boys will decorate the graves and put up four monuments.

The monuments were given by the government to be placed over the graves of the dead. Only four have been received but the local post will secure others.

The post would appreciate any information as to the location of graves in Milam County. The post believes there are a number of graves not now known to the posts. Last year it was necessary to hunt out some of the graves before they could be decorated.

Everett Kemp On Chautauqua For The Opening Date

A mere mention of the name of Everett Kemp, and joy is brought to a host of friends and admirers of Kemp, who has won an enviable record by his irrepressible humor, and his masterful presentation of some of the finest works of modern literature.

Kemp is almost nationally known as the "Man with the Million Dollar Laugh" and he gained, this title thru his humorous presentations of "The Man with the Bone Colored Whiskers."

Such plays as "Seven Oaks," "That Printer of Udell's," and "The Music Master," have lived and breathed under his almost magical touch of their characters, and now he comes with a brand new entertainment, even with greater messages, and greater humor than ever before.

Kemp has been with the Redpath Chautauquas for years. It is an inspiration to have a man of his calibre return to the Premier Chautauqua platform after several years' absence. He has become so well known by so many hundreds of people that his work has come to have an established standard of artistry.

It is especially fortunate that the opening day of the Premier Chautauqua in Cameron will find Everett Kemp on the platform. He will draw a big audience of admirers, and this will lend enthusiasm and momentum to the week's entertainment.

If Kidneys Act Bad Take Salts

Says Backache Often Means You Have Not Been Drinking Enough Water

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive, can not in-

TIME had been very cruel to Harriet Brent. To some women the years come like an Indian summer. Harriet Brent lived alone in an old house, which also had come to have an aspect unlovely and forlorn. Four square to the road it stood, its fields bounded by stone walls heaped together by the tenacious toll of New England pioneers.

A house that still braved the weather staunchly, it had sheltered many children and known many joys and sorrows. This its broad roof conveyed to the passer-by. For one elderly woman to dwell alone in it was like sitting by the dead ashes of a hearthstone.

Harriet Brent was not unhappy. In her heart, which seemed unquenched by warm emotions, there lived unquenched one divine spark of the true romance. Her faded eyes could soften in wistful reverie.

The Harriet Brent of those many, many years gone by had been a sensitive, slender girl of a certain flower-like, fleeting beauty. Delicate, they had called her. A shy girl, moving in misty day-dreams which she had been reluctant to reveal.

Eighteen she was when the lad had come from a larger town for a brief visit with cousins on a nearby farm. So brief—only a week. He had made love to her, with an ardor boyish and turbulent. Unashamed, she had returned his kisses.

Careless, splendid, debonaire, swearing he loved her forever and ever, he had passed on and forgotten her.

Harriet Brent did not forget him. Life is sometimes that way. The spirit of romance had once, only once, brushed her with its bright wings. Time healed the poignant sorrow. It came to be that she was glad to bear the scar. Even in these somber later years she could sit and thank God that she had known love and kisses and aching rapture.

One day this harsh-featured, unsmiling splinter went out to feed the hens. She had clapped on a battered, haymaker's straw hat. A shawl was thrown over her faded shirt-waist. The old skirt had been chopped off to make it easier to do the chores. The rubber boots were handy because there was mud in the hen yard.

The empty pan in her hand, Harriet Brent stood staring at a very large and glittering automobile which had halted in front of the house. The chauffeur was studying a weather-beaten guide-board on a post. A handsome woman, ruddy, dignified, spoke to the gentleman beside her. He left the car and walked to the gate of Harriet Brent's dooryard. She came clumping from the barn path to meet him.

"Is this the road to Warechester, if you please?"

"Yes, take the first road to the right after you climb the hill beyond the watering-trough."

"Thank you, and may my man have a pail of water to fill his radiator? If you will be good enough to show him where the well is—"

"I'll fetch you a pail," grimly spoke Harriet Brent. She lingered a moment to survey this vigorous, genial stranger with the close-cropped, grizzled moustache, the keen eyes, the air of substantial importance. Time had not been cruel to him. Life had been gracious nor had it obliterated that dominating quality which had made him victorious in boyhood.

Yes, Harriet Brent knew him as soon as they stood face to face, but the expression of her worn features was unchanged. She went into the shed and returned with a pail. The man who had come out of the past seemed in no haste to rejoin his wife in the car nor did he hear her when she called to him. He was gazing at the shabby old house and at the apple orchard beyond. His demeanor was curiously abstracted. His eyes were grave but his smile had a boyish sweetness as he said:

"This fine old place has run down. Too bad. I remember it years ago. A family named Brent lived here then. Do you know what became of them?"

"Dead and gone," replied Harriet. "You can see the stones in the little burying ground at the edge of the orchard."

"Yes, it was a long time ago. There was a daughter, a very lovely girl. I met her one summer, when I was a boy. Married, I suppose, and a grandmother by now?"

"She has gone, too, so I've heard say," steadily answered Harriet in a low voice. Her hand pulled the edges of the shawl together and remained there to rest on her heart. "Yes, the girl you used to know has gone from here."

His wife spoke impatiently. He turned with a start. Presently the car rolled away from the house by the road. He glanced back, more than once. From behind the ancient lilac bush, Harriet Brent watched the car vanish. Then she clasped her hands and murmured, in prayer:

"Oh, thank God he didn't know me. But he remembered—and he loved to remember. He was loving the girl that has gone. I didn't expect anything could ever make me so happy."

She went into the house and kindled a blaze in the huge fireplace of the sitting-room. By its glow she sat

Dreaded An Operation

Dallas, Texas.—"I had all manner of aches and pains peculiar to women."

My doctor said an operation was my only chance for recovery. An old lady advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Dreading an operation, I decided to take her advice and I am mighty glad I did, for I certainly was cured sound and well. I say to any woman, do not hesitate if you have any feminine trouble, take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and the Golden Medical Discovery if you need a general tonic."—Mrs. Lulu Ferguson, 2016 Cockrell St. All dealers.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre At Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

BROADWAY SUCCESS FOR CHAUTAUQUA HERE

RED-PATH HORNER PROGRAM
BEST IN HISTORY OF THE

Probably for the first time in Chautauqua history has a Broadway Success been contracted for a Chautauqua Circuit before it has run the gamut of theatre goers in the metropolitan centers of the country. Even yet this great comedy on American life has not closed its run in New York, where it has been enjoying a long run at the Ambassador Theatre.

Therefore, Premier Chautauqua patrons are assured of one of the very latest theatrical successes when "Applesauce" comes to Cameron, on the night of June 19, as a feature of the 1926 Redpath-Horner Premier Chautauqua Program.

"Applesauce" is written by Barry Connors, and it gets its name from the modern word for "blarney," "the glad hand," etc. It is served without stint, by Bill McAllister, the hero of the play—lovable, good looking, semi-worthless youth who wants to marry Pa Robinson's daughter Hazel. Pa and Ma want her to wed the plodding, well-to-do youth of the town, Rollo Jenkins. Bill talks Rollo into thinking marriage is too expensive a business venture for that rich tight-wad to indulge in. Hazel accepts Rollo, but her love for Bill and his Applesauce cannot be drowned and—but that would be telling the unusually happy ending of an unusually happy play.

"A happy, happy play with a message of cheerio, sunny skies and silver linings. One of those synthetic concoctions it is of homely American small-town virtues, sweet girlhood, glib young men, and violent jerks at the heart strings that are calculated to send the customers out into the night bigger and better men and women," is the way the New York Evening World described it last September after its opening appearance in that city.

"Applesauce" promises to be a great treat to Premier Chautauqua patrons. There is no doubt that it will be the play that the New York News says it is: "A clever, virile comedy made up of big laughs and little freshets of tears."

Miss Adams is a candidate for the Golden Eaglette, the highest gift in the hands of the Girl Scouts. She was cited recently for exceptional bravery for remaining inside a blazing building helping physicians to give first aid treatment to injured firemen.

REVIVAL JUNE 6th THROUGH 16th

Final arrangements have been made for the Revival Meeting. Mr. Mark Short has been secured to conduct the music for the meeting. Mr. Short is at present in a meeting with the Calvary Baptist church in Dallas. He has had quite a bit of experience in evangelical singing.

The services will be in the church auditorium both morning and evening. It was thought at one time that the evening service would be on the lawn but since the weather continues cool it will likely not be uncomfortable with the fans running, in the auditorium.

We hope that each member of the church will center his prayers and efforts on at least one whom he will endeavor to win to Christ. We want this to be A WIN ONE CAMPAIGN.

This meeting will be brief, lasting only ten days. If you mean to do anything in the meeting you must not wait, but set yourself to the task now. The pastor is to do the preaching and he will not lose any time in spying out and airing the short comings of the church members but will be preaching from the beginning to Win the lost.

If you wish to know how to fit into this Revival Meeting then read 2 Chronicles 7:14. "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves and pray, and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

If you have one whom you want to see saved, write his name on a slip of paper and hand it to the pastor. A great number have handed in names of people whom they want saved and we are praying daily for their salvation. Remember that "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." James 5:16. Add one to your prayer list and join us in daily prayer for the salvation of all on this prayer list.

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys

Eat less meat if you feel Back-achy or have Bladder trouble.

Too much meat may form uric acid, which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Big meat eaters can flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like they relieve the bowels, removing all the acids, waste and poison, else they may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad they have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging one to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders.

Monday evening the advanced pupils of Robert Smith appeared in piano recital in the Yoe High Auditorium. The stage decorations were arranged by Mesdames J. L. Clinton and Geo. T. Moore and were very beautiful. Handsome gladiolas and ferns were effectively used. Appearing on the program which included twenty three numbers were Misses Maggie Reed McCown, Mary White, Lizzie Beth Martin, Ruby Phipps, Lois and Ruby Robbins, Bethel Middleton, Ethel Green, Louise Johnson, Nell Sue Tyson, Mary McDermott, Gladys Davis, Hazel Freeman Katharyn Leath, Loia Clinton, Mary Lavinia Maples, Loring Beard, Cornelia Gunn, Geraldine Slaughter, Dora Emily Moore and Katharine Robbins.

The program numbers each deserve special mention for excellence and Mr. Smith was congratulated by his pleased friends upon the triumphal close of his term of music teaching.

HISTORY CLUB PICNIC

After a year of delightful intellectual programs, the Cameron History Club, last Tuesday evening enjoyed a picnic on the shore of the beautiful Country Club lake.

The unique entertainment provided by the committee, was unsurpassed as a fun-producer. A radio program broadcasted by artists of local renown was varied and spicy. Every five minutes for nearly an hour, a new feature came on the air. While it would be impossible to adequately describe the charm of all the numbers, several deserve special mention. The hog-calling contest was most educational and delightful, and for this the blue ribbon was awarded Mrs. J. M. Ralston with Mrs. James Watson as a close second in accurate reproduction. The Paul Quinn Quartette, led by Mrs. R. P. Jeter, although marred somewhat by static, gave evidence of careful training, and the original verses by the leader, were ably climaxed by the chorus.

The bed-time story, broadcasted by

When static prevented further radio interest, games of dignified and educational character were appropriately led by Miss Mary Lake Henderson. Chinese Tag, most oriental in its grace of motion, was followed by several travel tests. The grand finale of the afternoon was a bountiful supper, served cafeteria style, by a committee whose efficiency was only rivaled by the appetites of those present.

The club was honored by the presence of the following guests: Mrs. A. C. Strickland of Coolidge, Texas; Mrs. Warren Stone of Mt. Clemens, Mich; Mrs. E. A. Flinn, Mrs. Etta Ringgold, Mrs. H. G. Kenney, Clara Thomas Mrs. Tom Henderson, Jr; Mrs. R. H. McIntosh Mrs. S. M. Burns, Jr; Mrs. G. H. McGehee, Mrs. James Watson, Mrs. J. G. Vest, Miss Lucille Dickard, Mrs. George Graves, Miss Beth Jeter, Mrs. J. M. Ralston, Mrs. George H. Simonds and Mrs. R. D. Brown.

Judge and Mrs. Jeff Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Tag and Miss Rosalie Baskin motored to Georgetown Tuesday evening to attend at Southwestern University the Senior Expression recital of Ruth Kemp who was assisted by Southwestern Little Symphony orchestra conducted by Edward P. Onstot. The recital was given Tuesday, May 25, 1926, 8 p. m. in the University auditorium. The program was well rendered:

Fear God and Take Your Own Part, Miss Kemp.

Overture, King.

Valse Bluetie, Kerenski

March, S. U. orchestra.

Thursday Evening, Miss Kemp.

For the occasion the ushers were: Edith Pearcey, Mabel Brewer, Clyde Baskin, Fay Clark. The ushers were daintily dressed in evening gowns in pastel shades and wore silver slippers. They presented flowers from Miss Kemp's friends at the conclusion of each number. The recital was given under the direction of Miss Laura Kuykendall, Dean of Women and director of the school of expression of the fine arts department of Southwestern University.

Lee Tag of Cameron, one of the members of the orchestra rendered an appreciated cornet solo.

Floor baskets and beautiful gladiolas, nasturtiums, larkspur, sweet peas and ferns for the stage adornment were the thoughtful gifts of many Cameron friends. In the audience were several Cameron people now living in Georgetown.

STYLE SHOW

The Style Show exhibit by the H. E. department Monday afternoon was witnessed by a few mothers and a large number of students.

Each girl, about 30, had at least five dresses that they wore at the style show. The girls first appeared with gingham dresses. The silk dresses were divided into two parts: sport silk and the more dressed silks. Two girls, Cornelia Gunn and Bethel Middleton made their recital dresses and wore them that night after the style show.

Cornelia Gunn told in a very interesting way the trip to the state contest held at Beaumont. Geraldine Slaughter played the march for the style show. After the show, the girls took the visitors to the sewing room where they examined an exhibit of work which was not displayed on the stage.

The visitors were shown the kitchen and noted the canning and preserving which had been done during the term. In the dining room the guests were served delicious punch.

Miss Hensley and the H. E. department were the recipients of many commendations for the wonderful work they have accomplished throughout the year.

Old Confederates Express Appreciation of Governor Ferguson's Administration

We, the undersigned ex-Confederate soldiers who gave the best part of our lives fighting for the undying principles of state rights and those great principles of Democracy that guarantee to each individual the right to think and act for himself so long as he does not interfere with the rights of any other man and does not interfere with the public express our appreciation of that form of government as it has been re-established in our beloved State of Texas by the present governor, Mrs. Miriam A.

Law is again respected, the credit of the state now of the best, every department of the state is on a cash basis and all of the wards of the State are being properly cared for and kindly treated and the entire state has come into her own again through the statesmanship that has guided this state during the present administration; and we desire to publicly add our endorsement of the policies pursued by our great and good Governor and her political advisors.

Yours respectfully,

Davidson Raps Ma And Moody For Acts In Election Challenge

Jim Ferguson, proxy Governor offers to bet the office of Governor against the office of Attorney General. Dan Moody accepts the bet. The two highest offices within the gift of the people of Texas are thus placed upon the plane of a "negro crap game." The honor and the dignity of these two great offices is insulted and disgraced by their incumbents to a degree that brings a blush of shame to every decent and right thinking citizen in this state. The legal and moral codes of Texas condemn gambling, even when it involves property owned by the gamblers. The offices held by the Governor and the Attorney General are solemn trusts granted by the people of Texas. The holders of those offices have no more right to gamble them away than they would have to gamble away the estate of widows and orphans entrusted to them by a dead friend or relative. Ferguson's failure to respect a public trust is not a matter of astonishment. Moreover, if he wins double, keeps the governor and the right to name an Attorney General who would serve six months, which is long enough to dismiss some troublesome road suits. Shades of our great lawyers now gone who have filled this high office. How their outraged spirits must revolt as they see their successor waging his sacred trust in a game of chance in an effort to herd votes into his "political" barnyard. Mr. Moody obviously expects to force Texas voters to back him for Governor by holding up the threat of a Ferguson names Attorney General, should he lose his bet with the Fergusons. Mr. Moody proclaims that the issue in this campaign is "Fergusonism" against the rights of the people. In the next breath he enters into a betting covenant with Jim Ferguson, by which he attempts to rob the people of their right to name the Attorney General and also to name the Governor of Texas in the coming election. The only honorable course left to Mr. Moody to right the wrong he has done the people and that they may freely express their own preference at the ballot box in the coming election, is for him to withdraw from the gubernatorial race. If this is not done, the highway suits now halted by his political activities might be dismissed by a Ferguson appointed Attorney General or die of old age before the parties are ever brought to bar.

NOTICE

May 19, 1926
Cameron, Texas

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

There seems to be some confusion in the minds of some of our citizens relative to the effect of the County wide Stock Law election to be held in this county on June 19th, and we have received numerous inquiries regarding the matter and the effect in Districts which are already operating under the Stock Law.

This proposition was recently submitted to the Attorney General's department, and it was held that should the election fail to carry, it will in no wise affect the districts which have already adopted the law but will continue to operate under the provisions of the same as before, in the event the election should fail to carry on June 19th.

Respectfully,
JEFF T. KEMP,
County Judge, Milam County.
A. J. LEWIS,
County Attorney, Milam County.

MRS. MATTIE APPLIN

The funeral of Mrs. Mattie Applin at the Lilac church on Wednesday afternoon was largely attended by relatives and friends. Rev. Granger, Baptist pastor of the Lilac church, officiated. Judge John Watson, Judge Jeff Kemp, Messrs Joel Hardie, Walter von Rosenberg and J. E. Hook acted as pall bearers. Undertakers James Coleman and Charlie Price had charge of the interment which was in the Lilac Cemetery. Mrs. Applin was laid to rest beside her husband—the late Constable John Applin, who was accidentally killed six years ago near the family home where Mr. and Mrs. Applin lived for many years.

Mrs. Mattie Applin was born in Troy, Pike County, Alabama on January 5, 1862 and died at her home on May 24, 1926. She is survived by a family of sons and daughters. She was a faithful member of the Baptist church and her devoted Christian life brought her near to many and she was beloved by all.

The Herald extends condolence to the bereaved family.

CHEESE

Mrs. G. C. Williams of Bryant Station sent to Mr. Jeff Kemp sections of two splendid cheeses made by her at her home under the direction of Mrs. Ringgold, County Home agent.

Judge Kemp pronounced the cheese to be unusually excellent and suggests that if any member of Mrs. Ringgold's club desires a decision as to the excellence of the quality of home made cheese that he willingly offers himself as a sampler.

Mrs. Williams to date holds the title as champion cheese maker.

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys

Eat less meat if you feel Back-achy or have Bladder trouble.

Too much meat may form uric acid, which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Big meat eaters can flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like they relieve the bowels, removing all the acids, waste and poison, else they may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach aches, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad they have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging one to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders.

CAMERON CITY BASE BALL LEAGUE

In the evenings when the weather is hot and sultry and the business man is ready to take time off for a little sport, an ideal baseball game hits the occasion. Thus a City Ball League has been formed, made up of the business men and base ball lovers of Cameron. Four clubs have been formed including: North End, Knights of Pythias, Lions Club and Santa Fe, Schumachers otherwise known as the Santa Fe "Smokey Rats."

The object of this league is to give the business men of Cameron recreation and a little "outdoor" air. Much competition is found among these 4 teams and this has proven to the fans that the league is to be a success.

Friday, May 28, 1926, the Lions Club will play the North End at Lawless Green Athletic field at 5:00 o'clock. The Lions boast of the best pitching staff of the league in Laurence Tiller, Fred Childress, Ray Burke and Gilbert Tindall. The North End has proven to the Knights of Pythias that they have a perfect infield. The Schumachers are the out "sluggiest" team in the league.

Friday's game will be one of the season so come out and enjoy a good ball game and spend the sultry evening in perfect harmony with the "Ump."

"Batter Up."
"Play Ball."

EYE INJURED

The little three year old child of Mr. Mowdy who lives near Hanover fell on a butcher knife last Saturday and cut his right eye open. He was immediately brought to Dr. G. B. Taylor at Cameron where he received surgical attention. Several stitches were taken. At this writing the child is reported doing as well as could be expected, and it is hoped that the eye ball can be saved, and possibly some vision.

Thousands Cheer Governor Ferguson

Sulphur Springs Sees Greatest Gathering in History Texas Politics

Sulphur Springs, Texas, May 22. The largest crowd ever gathering for a political address in Texas was on hand today to hear Governor Miriam A. Ferguson open her campaign for re-election to a second term as governor.

MRS. FERGUSON'S ADDRESS

Almost two years ago the democrats of Texas nominated me as their candidate for governor. Under unusual conditions, I was elected. So far as was in my power, the records will show that I kept every promise to my people. I have recently, in a public platform, given a full account of the accomplishments of my administration. I invite a careful reading of this statement. If any voter desires a copy I will be glad to furnish one to any address on application to me at Austin.

The record will show that during my first administration, appropriations have been reduced $10,000,000 under the preceding administration, and all deficiencies of former administrations have been paid. The state has been put on a cash basis, and on May 1, there was more than $7,000,000 in the treasury.

The insane have been taken out of the jails and put in sanitary and comfortable asylums.

Prison Paying Its Way.

The prison system of the state is paying its way and this administration has paid more than $800,000 of the former debts of the system.

The public schools of the state received $14 per capita during the current scholastic year and with the large cash balance in the treasury the same amount will be available and probably $15 can be had. This will insure an average school term of seven months.

Every department of the state government, except one, has acted in harmony with each other.

The first week I was in office I was informed that the attorney general would be a candidate against me for a second term. At first I could not believe what I heard. But just as soon as a bill was introduced to clear my family name from the stigma of impeachment, the attorney general began to throw the powers of his office against the accomplishment of that which was dearly sought by me and my family.

Attack on Highway Department.

Failing partly in this, he then began his attack on the highway department. I appointed lawyers to appear in court and answer his charges. He denied my right to appear, and he denied the right of the highway department to appear and defend itself.

He then, for five months, neglected the duties of his own office, and by every way and means in his power, sought to bring indictments against some official under my administration. In this he signally failed.

He sought to set aside the action

Mrs. Ferguson in a short address defended her administration and issued a challenge to Dan Moody that if he leads her one vote he resigns and if she does not lead him 25,000 votes she will resign.

MRS. FERGUSON'S ADDRESS

of the textbook board appointed by me in the adoption of textbooks. He and State Superintendent Marrs worked unceasingly together in a fruitless attempt to set aside a solemn and binding contract made by the state for the purchase of free textbooks for the children of Texas. Again the attorney general and the state superintendent in language so plain as to cause embarrassment to both of them.

Now since the attorney general has announced against me for a second term, it is quite plain what has been in his mind through all these meddlesome activities against my administration.

"Irresistible Pressure."

He now claims that there has been brought to bear upon him an irresistible pressure and demand for him to run for governor to keep the state from going to everlasting destruction.

With the avowed purpose to slander my administration he has raised the cry of honesty in office and says he must answer the great cry of the people for his services. I shall put his sincerity to the test. If my administration has been so bad and so dishonest and if the people as he says are just crying for him, then I ought not to stay in office one minute longer than the people shall speak on the question.

If on the other hand he has raised a false cry and has made a false charge then he ought to get out instead of me.

A "Get Out" Proposal.

So I make this challenge to the attorney general. The primaries come on July 24. Regardless of the result he and I could stay in office until the second Tuesday in January, 1927. But I will agree that if he leads me one vote in the primary that I will immediately resign without waiting until next year, if he will agree that if I lead him 25,000 votes in the primary on July 24 he will immediately resign. If the attorney general is brave a great service can be rendered to the people by getting rid of a very bad governor as he claims or getting rid of a very incompetent attorney general as the people may decide. Come on, Mr. Attorney General, and let us stop the pain.

The attorney general seems to have a great complaint against my husband because I sometimes take his advice. He has censured him most bitterly. Although my husband is a private citizen and does some things that do not suit the attorney general, he seems to think that qualifies him to be governor. I am going to ask that you hear my husband, your friend, in his own defense.

SPEECH OF JAMES E. FERGUSON

My friends: I ain't no poet, But some fellow said: "There is a land of pure delight Where rules the immortal van, There is a heaven for black and white,

But there ain't no place for Dan."

Dan has joined the witch burners and turned his back on the pardon spirit of his Savior and consigned himself to eternal perdition. As he condemns Ma for the pardon of others he cannot expect old Peter to pardon him.

Daniel Jiggs Moody is a newlywed that is committing the unpardonable sin of taking advice from his wife. Although condemning women for taking advice from their husbands, he has thrown up the sponge in deep despair and submits to feminine dictation in his own household. Dadburn him, I dare him to deny it.

Three Charges.

Moody's campaign was daddied in the evolved monkey end of the Baptist church and boosted by the Ku Klux Klan and supported by the big oil companies opposed to the gasoline tax. Let everybody keep their shirt on and I will prove all three propostions before I get through.

Moody says he will not throw mud. I won't either. I am going to throw rocks. I regret to have to do it. But soft words and kind words would fall upon the deaf ears of this crowd that have gone up and down this state and told more deliberate plain bald-faced cheap falsehoods than were ever uttered by and crowd in any age or country in the memory of man.

I shall meet this crowd before the people of Texas face to face, and it shall be a case of "Lay on, McDuff, and dam be he who hollers calf rope or take him off."

Modern Baptist Preachers.

Let me begin with the first proposition. Recently in the Fort Worth Star Telegram, a Ku Klux-Butte paper, the following appeared: "Baptist for me, Dan States, Austin, May 14.—Attorney General Dan Moody, candidate for governor, returned today from Houston and Galveston and said that 'The Baptists are sure for me.' The Southern Baptist are in convention. However, his mission was not political."

Look around over your state and almost invariably without exception you will find the so-called modern progressive Baptist preachers that have forgotten the old time religion preaching for their new-found hero, Daniel Jiggs Moody.

They claim that Moody is up-to-date that he is the brightest and the smartest and the prettiest young man of this day and generation. Look among the evolution Baptist preachers who supported Felix Robertson and Butte two years ago and you will find them popping off in this campaign and telling the people that young Dan Moody is the Thomas Jefferson of the age and the savior of all mankind. The same Baptist hierarchy that two years ago argued to the people of this state that the democratic pledge was a scrap of paper and that they could not be bound by their promise whenever it suited them to violate it, are now raising the same argument in favor of Moody. But what could you expect from a crowd that has denied God and admit that they come from a tadpole? Whenever men deny the divine birth and resurrection of the Savior of men and deny the Bible story of the creation of the world and seek to explain away the teachings of the fathers, then it is to be expected that they would be bound by no ties of honesty in matters spiritual or political. It is the contest that has been waged in the republic many times in resisting those who, under the guise of the cause and in the name of religion, have sought to deny everybody else the right to have their religion and who sought to seize control of the government and make it a weapon of oppression to take away the liberties of the people.

For the Baptist who believes in the old-time religion that God created the world in six days and made man in his own image, and sent his only begotten Son, born of the Virgin Mary for the atonement of sinful humanity, I have every respect, but for this bunch of political monkey Baptist who impelled by the spirit of hate, are seeking to thrust Dan Moody on this state when they know that he is incompetent and unworthy of any office within the gift of the people, I am bold to utter my supreme contempt and I will be found battling them not only in this election but in every other election when they seek to get control of this government.

Ku Klux Klan.

"Dan's the man" says the klan. When you analyze Moody's record on the klan question and when the people know the truth, he will get neither klan or anti-klan.

While I never had any respect for the principles of klanism or the pernicious activity of klanism, and while I regard as dangerous to the fundamental principles upon which the government is founded, yet I have more respect for the klanman who says he is a klanman and admits his membership than I would for a man who, like Dan Moody, runs with the klan by night as it were and deceives the world by day on that issue.

I say boldly that Dan Moody is either a member of the klan or he is in sympathy with them, and the last would be just as bad as the first if not worse.

Let us go back just a little bit and cite some political history to see if my statements are not true. I ask when, oh, when, did this state suffer the greatest danger from klan rule and klan principles? When was it that it took greatest degree of courage on the part of the fearless citizenship to declare itself against that order which threatened for a time to shake the foundations of this republic? Was it two years ago in the Felix Robertson campaign? No. For then the wave of defeat was rolling in that finally encompassed their destruction by a majority of 100,000 against the klan candidate, Felix Robertson. But go back two years further to 1922, to the Mayfield campaign. It is a fact that no one denies that Earle Mayfield was the klan candidate, who was supported by every monkey Baptist preacher in this state.

The terrors of that day are yet fresh in the minds of the people of Texas. The hooded knight, bold and defiant, rode forth into the night and with masks in their faces overpowered men and outraged women. The blood of helpless victims streaming from their backs caused by the lash of the Ku Klux in the river bottoms is yet an orgy of crime vivid in the memory of our citizenship. It looked like in that day that this fanaticism would gain control of this government and the liberty of religion and the freedom of conscience in matters political would pass from the fair name of Texas.

Defied Klan in Hour Of Peril

It is not immodest in view of the charges that are now made against me for me to remind the people of this state of the fact that I stood forth and defied the klan in that hour of peril.

And I hurl into the teeth of this crowd who, impelled by hate and alone, where was their candidate Dan Moody in that memorable contest? He was doing nothing more nor less than supporting Earle Mayfield against me and was having intimate and friendly interest in his campaign in Austin, Texas, and in return for his support in that campaign I want the world to know that Earle Mayfield is today supporting Dan Moody for governor of this state.

While I in that campaign was battling for the cause of religious freedom, guaranteed to the people under the constitution, Dan Moody was supporting Mayfield, who was the candidate of the Ku Klux Klan who attacked the religious freedom of the people.

Look around you in your community today and almost invariably the same active klanmen that were found fighting me in that campaign are supporting Dan Moody today for governor.

Dan's Campaign Opened.

Coming on down to this campaign. Let's see whether the same crowd is at work or not. At Houston last year, Dan Moody's candidacy was launched. A meeting was held on Sunday afternoon under the guise of law enforcement. Speeches were made by different people that had been prominent in the klan. As a part in the program Dan was invited. A negro spoke from the same platform. They say that the negro had a better speech than Dan.

One McCan, a Baptist preacher and a Klansman, made a great speech. The chairman called upon the representative of the Houston Post-Dispatch a paper owned and controlled by Sterling and Hobby, two Ku Klux sympathizers and Butte lovers, to address the meeting. Whereupon J. Mortimer Lewis, representing said klan publication, arose and in the course of his prepared remarks, declared that Dan Moody was the political Moses to lead the people out of political bondage, and the crowd then assembled, applauded to the echo, Dan became rattled because he was discovered in his true light. His knees began to shake because his night-time friends had little enough sense to recognize him in the daytime. In a feeble stammering voice, he said that he was still opposed to the klan, but strange to say, he did not reject the Moses nomination, and they have been calling him a child Jesus and a political Moses ever since.

Again last year, the people will remember when the klan had secured control of the state horses and equipment at Arlington and were about to use them in a klan parade when they were prevented and caused to dismount by order of the governor, the grand wizard, Hiram Evans, became so enraged at the governor that he lost his head and spilled the beans and then and there declared in an address to his brethren that the next year the people would elect a governor who could hold the office in his own name. O, how true to form was this utterance first stated by Felix Robertson, continued by Dr. Butte, and now raised again by Dan Moody as his issue in this campaign. If Dan Moody is not a klanman, then in the name of God, why is he running on a klan issue? Is the same crowd still at work? Yea, verily.

Statement of Wizard Evans.

Recently at Abilene, on April 28, the same Imperial Wizard Evans made a speech; the Abilene Reporter, a klan sympathizer, giving an account of the wizard's speech, said: "At the outset of a hasty review of Texas politics, in which Jim Ferguson came up for plenty of fire, Dr. Evans said: 'I don't want to talk to you about the Texas governor's race. If you haven't got sense enough to know who to vote for then I don't want to talk to you. But I know what you are going to do, and so do you. And boys, we will shake hands when he gets there.' "

In line with this activity, Larry Mills, the campaign manager for Felix Robertson two years ago, is now quietly supporting Dan Moody for governor.

Williamson County Cases. But they tell us that Dan ought to be elected governor because he evicted members of the klan in the fogged cases in Williamson county, the used, and of Billie Luce, deceased, tell you that because he, while district attorney, brought about these convictions of members of the hooded order who committed an outrageous assault upon a citizen of the state. If a district attorney deserves credit for doing his duty far be it from me to say that I do not think he deserves all the credit. The judge on the bench and the jury who tried the case and the members of the private prosecution also should come in for some glory for this conviction.

One of the members of the private prosecution told me that Dan never could have secured the conviction if he had not had the support of private prosecution of three or more lawyers. But while this great being made by Dan Moody and followers for the prosecution of the klanmen who Dan and his crowd condemning my wife for exercising pardon power, and while Dan is ing about in his speech the crime wholesale pardoning, it may be of interest to our anti-klan friends, know that Dan Moody, the great convictor, has quietly agreed with klan attorneys of Murray Jast who received the highest sentence these persecutions, to recommend pardon when Murray Jackson lived one year notwithstanding you a sentence of five years.

If Mr. Moody wants to jant's statement then I am ready to jolan the letters of the attorney's agreement. with the trade settlement which they made with Moody in the Travis county court and he immediately replied, "Why hell yes. It was the best trade I ever made in my life, and neither I nor my company have any right to complain." This calls to mind that more than two months ago I charged in a public statement that Moody had admitted that the lawyers in the American Road Company case received a fee of $100,000 and Mr. Moody has not up to this good time denied the statement. If this is not true, then why did he make the statement? If he did not make the statement then why has he never denied it. Another remarkable thing is that notwithstanding Mr. Moody was supposed to be fighting the lawyers and the American Road Company so hard, yet in Travis county the loudest speakers for Dan Moody in this campaign are none other than the American Road Company lawyers.

Again for the third time, I call on Moody to produce the original agreement under which the money of the American Road Company was brought back to Kansas City and deposited in the Dallas bank. I especially demand the date of that contract. The public is entitled to know.

Honesty in Office.

Moody and his henchmen are still howling about honesty in office and the public now has about as much respect for Moody's harangue of honesty in office as they would about a woman that would proclaim that she is virtuous. If there has not been any dishonesty in office in Texas, then Moody is guilty of a veiled slander upon the office holders of this state, when he ought to have the courage to name the dishonest act. He has had the Travis county grand jury at his command for six long months. From two to four of his assistants have insisted the grand jury room in an attempt to bolster up their false charge of dishonesty in office, and yet they have failed, yes, signally failed, blow-up and busted and now Moody is a special session of the legislature because he says the grand jury is not powerful enough to find out what is going on. The power of the grand jury to make men testify and fine for contempt and put them in jail for failing to testify, the secret grand jury room, where the grand jury has neither friend or counsel to protect him against the brow-beating, bulldozing district attorney, nothing new in the hands of this hero beside the legislature, as no such powers to ferret out things.

I call on Daniel Jiggs Moody the dishonest offender that is now understood to name the people who you have indicted by the Travis county grand jury. If he wants to do his duty, then let him say this campaign I am going every day from now until the grand jury closes for Moody and name man, place and never has a campaign in the history of this state. They are making no successful campaign against this administration, nothing, they say nothing, eternal gods in heaven, nothing.

Moody wants to call the people to validate the road bonds issued in different road the state. He says the decision of the Supreme Court in the case has caused a re-evaluation of the credit of the state. I charge that Mr. Moody is ignorant or intention to blame for it than anybody else.

Moody will show that after the road bonds were presented to the department for approval by those who were contesting and the issuance of these bonds Moody a copy of their brief were filing in the Supreme Court of the United States, and in that case Moody was put on full notice of the taxpayers contesting the bonds and the facts therein set forth and Mr. Moody's attention was not a new question but that the Supreme Court of the United States had many laid down the same principle that court in the Archer case. In the face of full notice that was again adhered to by the Archer court.

Moody had been previously held when the case was brought to his attention. He was either to know a legal position was brought to his attention or he was impelled by some disclosure by the record. He had given a little more studying of the law of the state instead of worrying the people of Travis county with a lot of trouble than any other state. He was either to know a legal position was brought to his attention or he was impelled by some disclosure by the record. He had given a little more studying of the law of the state instead of worrying the people of Travis county with a lot of trouble than any other state.

Moody doesn't know any more conception of what an attorney general is than a snail has about perpetual motion. The constitution makes it his duty to look after the law end of the executive department, and yet he thinks that he is called on to be the chief cook and bottle washer for the whole state of Texas. To show the egotism and arrogance of this young spud I want to call attention to what he said in his Taylor speech. Listen at this when he says: "In the administration of the affairs of the attorney general's office it has not been my good fortune to receive the co-operation of the governor's office." Ye gods. Because he is in the office, the office became bigger than the governor's office. Because the governor don't run down to his shop & pledge obedience and offer co-operation a great crime has been committed. In other words here is the tail end of the governor's office wanting to run the whole state. Instead of the dog wagging the tail Moody is just mad because the tail is not permitted to wag the dog.

Moody is so full of egotism that he thinks he has the right to control matters within the discretion of heads of departments. He thinks he has the right to enter into matters not connected with any department. That is why he had the nerve to write the chairman of the highway commission that some of the road surfacing was too thick or too thin or according to his opinion was not the proper material to lay on a road. In West Texas he filed a brief in behalf of the Fort Worth and Denver City railroad, who was protesting against the people who wanted to build a railroad forty miles away from the Fort Worth and Denver. No legal question was involved but purely a matter of financial economy as to whether the road should or should not be allowed to be built. On the other hand in South Texas he joins in with the attorneys of the Southern Pacific in contending that a road should be built, another place where no legal question was involved with which the attorney general's department had no bit of business in the world. In other words while holding a legal position he is attempting to say you shall not build railroads in West Texas and you shall build railroads in South Texas. I submit to every lawyer who is supporting Moody that this is a clear usurpation of the powers and duties of the attorney general's office.

Dan says in his Taylor speech that "my record in the office of attorney general is fresh." I quite agree with him and I do not think anybody will question the propositions that he has brought more egotism, more bull, less work and less ability than ever existed in that office before. Yes, it is fresh and no mistake.

"Drafted for Governor."

These big politicians say that they have drafted Dan to run for governor. Dan himself says that he just had to run for governor because so many thousand people raised up in arms and just demanded that he make the sacrifice in running the governorship of Texas. All this story about his being forced to run for governor and being drafted is just pure bunk. As far back as July of last year Earle Mayfield quietly told a friend in Hunt county that Dan Moody would be a candidate for governor next year for the purpose of whipping Ferguson out of politics forever, and months before that time his friends were quietly passing the word around in Austin that Dan would be a candidate for governor.

In 1917 the government drafted Dan for the war, and this year, after the battle flags are furled and the drum beats are heard no more and the danger of powder and shell is passed, Dan has just drafted himself to get in this race for governor.

It is remarkable how these weak-kneed fellows in time of war become so bold about fighting somebody in time of peace. I sent up to Washington to send me Dan Moody's war record and I received from the major general the following:

Washington, D. C., March 23, 1926.

Mr. James E. Ferguson, Austin Texas.

Dear Sir:—Referring to your request for the war record of Daniel J. Moody I am pleased to inform you as follows:

That draft records show that Daniel J. Moody, order No. 3239, serial No. 1954, registered with the local board for division No. 1, County of Williamson, Texas, on June 5, 1917. He executed a questionnaire on January 8, 1918, in which he claimed deferred classification in class 3-B (man with dependent aged and infirm parents), which claim was allowed by his local board. On September 4, 1918, he was offered individual induction into the Central Officers Training School, which offer he accepted. He was reclassified in class 1-A (single man without dependent relatives) by the board on September 8, 1918, was physically examined and found to be qualified for military service on the same date, and was on that date inducted into military service and forwarded to Camp Pike, Arkansas, where he was accepted for military duty on September 11, 1918. Very truly yours,

(Signed) Robert C. Davis,

Major General, The Adjutant Gen.

The remarkable thing about this war record is that it shows he was a young man around 25 years of age, physically qualified for military service, and as the board found, was a single man without dependent parent or family, and as soon as they could get him into war was just 60 days before the armistice when they inducted him into the army and forwarded him to camp Pike and made him defend the flag.

Nobody can take this war record any place or any time in defense of and show where Dan ever volunteered his country. Of course, it is always just this kind of upstart that gets brave as hell as soon as the trouble is passed, when men can shoot bull instead of shooting guns.

Dan is a great man. The Austin Statesman recently published a history of his life, and among other things it said that when Dan was eight years old they tried to give him a little toddy as medicine and he said, "No, I can not drink."

And the history goes on further to say that when he was 10 years old his good old mother tried to deceive him by putting a little toddy in a milk punch to give him as a little medicine and again he said, "No mother I cannot drink," and he subjected his little body to the danger of death and disease against the attempt to make him the victim of King Rum. But, oh, me, oh my, how things have changed. He is grown now and has saved himself to be governor of the state and lo behold, his chief associates are Amon G. Carter of Fort Worth who launched his campaign at the Thanksgiving football game and he selected for his chief advisor Oscar Budwieser Colquitt, and henceforth all the prohibitionists vanguard of Texas are to be led under the spirit command of these two great statesmen. Son, oh, son, why hast thou departed from the principles of thy youth and taken unto thyself these strange companions?

Moody and Jim.

Moody nor none of his political cohorts dare attack my wife's administration. They do not deny that appropriations have been reduced $10,000,000. They do not deny that the state has been put on a cash basis. They do not deny that the penitentiary is now operating on a self-sustaining basis and paying its own way on its own credit without the aid of large legislative appropriations.

They do not deny that the Fergusons have built more school houses than all the governors combined. They do not deny that the Fergusons have appropriated more money for the cause of popular education and yes for the cause of higher education than any other governor that ever was in office. They do not deny that more money has been given to the rural schools of this state by the Fergusons than any other half dozen governors that ever sat in the chair.

They do not deny that Jim Ferguson did write the platform demand creating the present highway system under which more roads have been built than in all the history of the state before that time. They do not deny that the free textbook law originated in Jim Ferguson's administration. No, they do not deny any of these things because they can't deny them.

And yet they say Jim Ferguson is a bad man who commits the crime of giving advice to his good wife, the duly elected servant of the people. They do not say that my wife has made any mistakes in office. They do not even say that I have advised her wrong. All they say is that I have advised her. I submit that this kind of argument is but the utterance of an ignoramus. If I have given my wife good advice, good people ought to be thankful that she has a good advisor.

If I have given my wife bad advice then they ought to say when it was and what it is that is so bad. I think the people would rather let the advise my wife then to let Tom Love and Oscar Budwieser Colquitt advise Dan Moody. Dan Moody had Colquitt as his chief speaker at his opening speech and if there is a danger in one governor receiving the advice of another ex-governor who happens to be her husband, then the crime would be just as great, if not greater, for another governor to receive the advice of an ex-governor bound to him by no ties other than that of politics and impelled by no reason other than that of hate and disappointed ambition. No, my friends, I have got Oscar Colquitt skinned a city block in qualifications of advising a governor of this state. Poor old Colquitt. He might have been once a good wagon but he is run down now. Let him rest in peace.

Pardons.

Oh this crowd who are opposing my good wife and say she has issued too many pardons. And here is the place where these political preachers and hypocritical Christians, like a broken down race horse, interfere with themselves the personification of inconsistency. On Sunday they tell us that Jesus Christ died on the cross and forgave the thief of his sins who died on the cross with him. On Sunday they tell us from the pulpit that because of the exercise of the pardoning power by the Savior of men that we have received the Christian religion which gives men and women something to live by and something to die by, that gives us hope on earth and a reward in future glory. I deeply reverence this wonderful sacrifice that was made by the Son of Man. He did not stop to ask whether anybody was guilty or not. He did not demand a prison record showing clear. He made no requirements other than that a sinful and guilty humanity believe upon him as the Son of God and in return for this he pardoned all men in all countries and in all ages.

If you please he exercised the power of wholesale pardons. Nobody has ever questioned this great heritage of all people until Dan Moody made his opening speech at Taylor and then and there he denounced wholesale pardons. So again this young Moses has outgrown his breeches and is now jumping on Jesus. My good wife, the governor, has never issued wholesale pardons. Every pardon she has granted was issued upon its merits and had no relation to the issuance of any other pardon. She challenges Mr. Moody and his whole crowd to point pardons that she has issued that they object to.

The Cause of Mercy.

That she may have erred on the side out to the people of Texas how many of mercy is possible so, but, Thank God, she will have the courage to err again if the cause of mercy shall demand that she do it. I understand that many good people may be misinformed about the pardon question, but if they do not know anything about the issuance of pardons they ought not to condemn unless they have reasonable facts upon which to base the condemnation. Criminals that have committed bad crimes are required to serve long sentences before they have received a pardon under the Ferguson administration and these critics who on Sunday proclaim so loud about the pardoning power of the Savior, on Monday seem to forget all they have learned and all they ever said, and condemn the governor for putting into practice what they have preached.

Three-fourths of the pardons issued by the governor are for minor offenses. Some people think that because men and women have been guilty of some minor crime that the government ought to visit upon them eternal damnation and destruction. Such is not the object of the law and reformation by our penal code but is declared as much the purpose of the law as the punishment of the offender.

The average case presented to the governor is something like this: Some unfortunate is sent to the penitentiary from one to two years for the theft of an animal, for the forgery of a $25 note or check, or for the possession of a bottle of intoxicating liquor. Many times these offenses were committed as a result of abject poverty and the desire to get food or clothing for loved ones. They go into court unable to employ counsel, with no influential friends to plead their case or justify their actions. They are tried by the cold letter of the law, which neither forgives or justifies. Good-bye to their wife and children, possibly only one, generally two or three. Their conviction is sure, and bidding they are rushed off to prison. In no case is there more than one month's provision left in the family cupboard, and if, perchance, a small sum of money is left at the end of one or two months the good wife finds hunger in the household and the wolf of despair knocking at the door. Then, with children hungry and cold, the mother begins to take in washing and do the hardest kind of work to keep her children from starving and want. At the beginning of the third month, she begins to worry and long for the day to come when the husband, away in the penitentiary, will come back to her and can be able to use the muscles of his strong arm to win the daily bread for the household. And then by the fourth month, facing unequal trouble, the mother succumbs to sickness and there is no one to provide comfort or give bread to the unfortunate household whose head has been guilty of only one minor offense.

And then the neighbors begin to send in old clothes and a little bread and a little meat for a while. And then the paupers fund to aid the family all because, if you please, that some husband has committed his first offense perhaps the county begins to spend in a minor degree against the laws of his country. In this hour of distress and darkness somebody remembers that a woman governor sits in the chair at Austin clothed with the power to send papa home to mother and the babies, and some friend brings the petition to Austin. And when the story is told, the governor does what any Christian man or Christian mother would do, says what the Savior said, "Go thou thy way and sin no more." The pardon is issued the offender goes back home to his loved ones. The religion of Jesus Christ has been practiced. Hunger and misery are banished and happiness again reigns in that household. The law has received its demand and society has not suffered.

And yet for this, these monkey-faced Baptists have put Dan Moody in the field as their candidate against your governor who has listened to the cry of the orphan and the wail of the widow in their pleas for mercy.

Dan Moody be elected governor of this state! No, by the eternal Gods, no. As long as the mothers and fathers of sons and daughters shall control Texas this contemptible demagogue and all his damnable gang will be scourged from the seat of power in the great commonwealth of Texas.

HISTORY IN CAKE

This replica of historic Independence Hall in Philadelphia is a fine example of the baker's art. It was made by the chef of one of Philadelphia's leading hotels to advertise the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, which will open in that city June 1 and run to December 1 to celebrate the 150th anniversary of American Independence. The "State House" stands on a table at the entrance to the main dining room of the hotel.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

ON SAVING TO INVEST

"You have talked so much about saving, Aunt Emmy," said Hilda to Aunt Emmy, "that I wonder if you will be kind enough to help Jack and me work out a way to save regularly. We do so want to get ahead. As Jack is getting a little more money this year, we plan to save that and keep right on living on what we got last year. Of course, it is hard to do without a lot of things we might have, but then Jack and I both feel that we don't want to be worried about money. If we have a little reserve fund, we can be prepared for emergencies."

"Bless my heart!" exclaimed Aunt Emmy. "It surely does sound good to hear such sensible talk from a youngster these days! I'll tell you what I think is a good plan for you to follow—open a savings account with a bank that has a thrift department and every week put away a stated sum in your savings account. You will receive interest on this money, you know. Of course you receive only a moderate rate of interest on your savings, so it is a good idea to make a definite investment plan and invest your savings in sound securities that will yield a higher rate of interest."

"Accumulate your money, small sums at a time, in your thrift or savings account. Determine what sum you will use for your initial investment, say, $100 or $500. Save until you have twice that amount. If you decide to begin your investment on $100 save $200, then take $100 and buy a baby bond, or buy a large bond on the installment plan and apply the $100 on the first payment, if you are sure you can save regularly enough to meet the other payments."

"Why not use the $200 and then begin all over again, Aunt?" queried Hilda.

"Because you ought to have some money on hand. You don't want to wipe out your whole savings, even for the best sort of investment."

"But how can we know what to invest in?" asked Hilda.

"Your bank will help you in that, my dear. Bankers are always glad to advise their customers concerning sound investments."—Anne B. Aymes

A GOOD TIP

Now is the time to buy purebred livestock. A considerable volume of purebred stock originally intended for breeding purposes has been going to the block because prices for purebreds in many instances have declined practically to the level of those paid for slaughter animals. There is need for purebred livestock on farms and it does not seem right to slaughter animals that could be used to improve the quality of farm herds and flocks.

An exceptionally high producing cow is worth many times the price of a slaughter animal. Not only does such an individual produce more actual milk and butterfat, but the superior production characteristics of such individuals may be passed on through several succeeding generations.

The fact should not be overlooked that purebred livestock is a real necessity. Without such stock, milk and butterfat records and weights of fleeces will decline and uniformity of type and quality will be sacrificed. No improvement can be made without them. Now is the time to sell scrub stock and buy purebreds while the prices are low.—Banker-Farmer.

There's nothing more convincing than the statement of someone you know and have confidence in. That's why this talk with Mr. Reed of Nolan Ave. & W. 8th street, should be mighty helpful here in Cameron.

F. F. Reed, grocer, says: "My kidneys were in a disordered condition and acted much more freely than they should have. It was necessary for me to get up several times during the night to pass the secretions. This sort of thing prevented me from resting properly and when morning came, I was tired and all out of sorts. A friend told me of Doan's Pills and I started using them. One box put my kidneys in normal condition and made me feel 100 per cent better."

THE WOODPILELESS HOME

The boys of large cities would be much better off if they had a woodpile to saw up, after the old village fashion, according to Cleveland H. Dodge, a prominent New York business man who has been much interested in work for boys and young men. He thinks that the lack of definite home tasks in a city where so many people occupy apartments, is not good for these youngsters. He points out that the boys of that city could produce daily a pile as high as the Woolworth building, if they worked the way the country boys used to.

Present habits in cities increase the leisure time for boys, and many of them do not know what to do with this leisure, and consequently they drift into undesirable practices.

At the old fashioned woodpile, the development, the exercise strengthened his mind and made his muscles firm and powerful, and it taught him persistence. The boy who learned to finish his woodpile was never a quitter when he grew up, and he paid his debts and was a good citizen.

Something needs to take the place of that job in the woodpileless home. The boys need some tasks by which they will learn industry and perseverance. There ought to be something they could do for the benefit of the family, even if they occupy a city flat. It is a help to them where they take some regular job in their spare hours.

Clubs for boys and young men also take the place of the woodpile to a large extent, by giving them a chance to cultivate their muscle and build up vigorous health. If any of the boys of Cameron have nothing to do after school but to stand around on the sidewalk and go to entertainments and beg rides in automobiles, something is going to be lacking in their character that was supplied in the old days of the woodpile.

THE SEARCH FOR SECLUSION

When they go away for a summer rest, some people want to get as far as possible from human contacts, while some rush into the biggest crowd they can find, and do not seem satisfied unless someone is stepping on their toes or jostling their elbows every minute.

President Coolidge, as stated at Washington, is choosing the former alternative, and is expecting to spend his vacation at the secluded camp in the Adirondack forests. After meeting day after day the procession of seekers for legislation and offices and favors that constantly asks his aid, it is possible to think and act like a normal human being. Even there, if he goes out to any public place, there will be a jam of curiosity seekers to see what kind of clothes he wears and what a real president looks like.

There are many people in ordinary occupations that feel the same way. School teachers frequently get into the same mood. After dealing with 40 or 50 contrary and obstinate little wills, and the conflicting desires of their parents, for 35 or 40 weeks, some lodge in the wilderness where they can hear nothing but the hoot of the loon and the tap of the woodpecker no doubt looks good to them.

There is a refreshing quality in silence. A person seems to grow physically and spiritually, as a result of quiet contact with forest and sky. Not so many people would have nervous breakdowns, if a lot more of them would go off and camp in the woods each year.

Yet there are many who are miserably unhappy in such an environment. Many of them have not cultivated any mental resources that can amuse them, and they have to seek stimulus from outside. They find crowds inspiring and cheering. This too may be a normal point of view, and suggesting that people are not ruffled by the minor frictions.

NATURE'S THORNS

People look forward to the camping trips and hikes and picnics and various out door affairs of the summer, as pure and unalloyed pleasure. But when they come to participate in these happy times, they frequently find their joy obscured by some of the minor annoyances of nature.

Writing in "Association Men" under the title of "Nature's Thorns", Alvin F. Harlow talks about the sorrows which these travellers encounter from mosquitoes, buffalo gnats, black flies, sand flies, ticks, fleas, etc. He tells of many concoctions with which one can anoint one's skin, and secure protection against these pests.

But even if one never leaves his home, there are in most places some local pests that make picnics or even sitting on one's porch uncomfortable. It is amazing how some communities that are all overrun with mosquitos, will tolerate them, when they could probably be abolished by proper treatment of the low and swampy spots where these creatures breed.

Back in the days when most people kept horses and were very careless about looking after their stables, it was amazing the way they would tolerate flies. These pests would flock in vast swarms from the stables into the homes. Even if the doors and windows were carefully screened, a flock of these little pests would be waiting at the doors, and everytime anyone entered, scores of them would gain admittance and make a bee line for the kitchen and dining table.

Well screened house and covered garbage pails will do much to abolish such pests, and towns should get after mosquito breeding places. While people who are fretted by these pests may seem to lack self control, it is not wise to cultivate such restraint about them that we allow them to give us disease.

CO-OPERATIVE ENTERPRISE

We hear the gospel of co-operation on every hand. The farmers are co-operating to market their crops, capitalists and workmen are urged to co-operate for increased production, etc. But many people do not seem to have caught the co-operative ideas as respects their home town relations.

They think that when they have paid their taxes, that is all the co-operation that is required of them. But the local government of city and towns which we support by taxes, are only one of the functions necessary for community progress.

Also a great deal of voluntary work must be done. People must be willing to join organizations that work for the public good, and to take official positions in them. Those qualified should expect to take turns serving in city and town governments. And everyone can co-operate by creating an impression of neatness about his home place and beautifying it in an attractive way.

MERCANTILE CO-OPERATION

There is one form of co-operation in which everyone can participate, but which many decline to some extent. That is, the co-operation necessary to produce a prosperous retail business community.

The merchants co-operate to this end by investing large sums of money in up-to-date merchandise, and devoting their entire energy to the problem of supplying the people the things that they need, and maintaining a distribution center that shall be attractive for many miles around.

The people are asked to co-operate, by giving their patronage to their home stores whenever such stores carry the things they want and need and in Cameron they almost invariably do. To make a city grow, the people must gladly offer this form of co-operation.

"During my first administration, appropriations have been reduced $10,000,000 under the preceding administration. The state has been put on a cash basis and on May 1 there was $7,000,000 in the treasury."

"The insane have been taken out of the jails and put in sanitary and comfortable asylums."

"The prison system of the state is now paying its way and this administration has paid more than $800,000 of the former debts of the prison."

"He (the attorney general) then for five months neglected the duties of his own office and by every way and means in his power sought to bring indictments against some official under my administration. In this he signally failed."

"He has raised the cry of honesty in office. . . I shall put his sincerity to the test. . . I make this challenge to the attorney general . . . I will agree that if he leads me one vote in the primary that I will immediately resign without waiting until next year, if he will agree that if I lead him by 25,000 votes . . . he will immediately resign."

Dan has joined the witch burners and turned his back on the pardon spirit of his Savior and consigned himself to eternal perdition."

"Look among the evolution Baptist preachers who supported Felix Robertson and Butte two years ago and you will find them popping off in this campaign and telling the people that young Dan Moody is the Thomas Jefferson of the age and the savior of all mankind."

"I say boldly that Dan Moody is either a member of the klan or in sympathy with them."

"While in that campaign (against Mayfield) I was battling for the cause of religious liberty guaranteed to the people under the constitution Dan Moody was supporting Mayfield, who was the candidate of the Ku Klux Klan."

"Dan Moody, this great klan convict, has quietly agreed with the klan attorneys of Murray Jackson, who received the highest sentence in these prosecutions to recommend his pardon when Murray Jackson has served one year."

"Again for the third time I call on paign is being supported by the oil companies who are opposed to the gasoline tax."

"Again for the third time I call on Moody to produce the original agreement under which the money of the American Road Company was brought back from Kansas City and deposited in the Dallas bank."

"Again I call on Daniel Jiggs Moody to name the dishonest official whom he is talking about in this campaign."

"He has no more conception of what his duty as attorney general is than a snail has about perpetual motion."

"Criminals that have committed bad crimes are required to serve long sentences before they have received a pardon under the Ferguson administration. . . Three fourths of the pardons issued by the governor are for minor offenses. . . That she may have erred on the side of mercy is possibly so, but thank God, she will have the courage to err again if the cause of mercy demands that she shall do so."

LARGE VOTE CAST
SCHOOL ELECTION

At the election held Friday to determine the wish of the people of Thorndale as to whether the tax of 75c on the hundred dollars valuation of property as assessed at present should be raised to $1.00, the voters turned out at the polls in surprising numbers and interest and voted to raise the tax for the maintenance of the school by a vote of 288 for the tax and 72 against the raise, making a majority for the tax of 216 votes, or a ratio of four to one for the tax.

The close students of such matters were confident in the great majority favored the tax but the record vote of Friday's election was a very pleasant surprise to many. The success of the effort made to carry the tax is due to the aggressive, open and above board campaign sponsored by the board and joined by the commercial Club and individual citizens generally who appreciate the service a good school renders to any community. To say at least, it is a step forward and one we will never regret having taken. Let the good work proceed, each for all and all for each.

She often got sick at her stomach and had no appetite. I tried everything for her, sometimes she felt a little better and was soon sick again. REVIVAL JUNE 6th THROUGH 16th

Final arrangements have been made for the Revival Meeting. Mr. Mark Short has been secured to conduct the music for the meeting. Mr. Short is at present in a meeting with the Calvary Baptist church in Dallas. He has had quite a bit of experience in evangelical singing.

The services will be in the church auditorium both morning and evening. It was thought at one time that the evening service would be on the lawn but since the weather continues cool it will likely not be uncomfortable with the fans running, in the auditorium.

We hope that each member of the church will center his prayers and efforts on at least one whom he will endeavor to win to Christ. We want this to be A WIN ONE CAMPAIGN.

This meeting will be brief, lasting only ten days. If you mean to do anything in the meeting you must not wait, but set yourself to the task now. The pastor is to do the preaching and he will not lose any time in spying out and airing the short comings of the church members but will be preaching from the beginning to Win the lost.

If you wish to know how to fit into this Revival Meeting then read 2 Chronicles 7:14. "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves and pray, and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

If you have one whom you want to see saved, write his name on a slip of paper and hand it to the pastor. A great number have handed in names of people whom they want saved and we are praying daily for their salvation. Remember that "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." James 5:16. Add one to your prayer list and join us in daily prayer for the salvation of all on this prayer list.

THE ORCHESTRA

Last Sunday we had a splendid orchestra both morning and evening. There were about eleven pieces in the orchestra and they rendered grat assistance in our music.

Don Slocumb deserves the credit for this orchestra for several weeks ago he volunteered his service to the pastor in getting together all who would play. The orchestra is now a great help to our services. We are obliged to Don and all of those who are lending their services.

Speaking of good workers in our church, there is surely no one that deserves more credit for being faithful in giving to the church the benefit of their talent than Miss Cornelia Gunn. She has rendered faithful, efficient service for which we extend congratulations.

REV. R. E. DAY TO SPEAK FRIDAY NIGHT, MAY 4TH

At the teachers and officers meeting which will be held on Friday night, May 4th, Rev. R. E. Day, pastor of the first Baptist church, Bryan, will be the special speaker. He will speak along the line of Soul Winning and Brother Day is a gifted and earnest speaker especially on this subject. We will want every officer and teacher in the Sunday School and the Deacons will be our guests on this occasion.

150 YOUNG MISSIONARIES ARE READY WAITING TO BE SENT OUT

According to Dr. T. B. Ray, associate secretary of the Southern Baptist convention, there are 150 young men and women, well trained in every respect, ready and anxious to be sent out to the foreign fields to tell the lost of Jesus Christ. The Board will be unable to send them or any others, however, until the churches greatly increase their offerings, making it possible for the Board to enlarge its work. In recent years the Board has lost more missionaries on account of death and resignation than it has been able to send out new workers.

CHANGE OF LIFE

Virginia Lady Improved After She Took Cardui.

"I had been going through the change of life and it seemed to me that everything got wrong," says Mrs. Deala Hawks, of Bristol, Va. "I suffered from shortness of breath and I could not go up the steps without stopping to rest several times.

"When I would try to hoe in my garden I would soon give out. I could scarcely hoe two rows before my breath was coming in gasps. "My sister-in-law had taken Cardui and she thought it might do me good, so she told me to try it. I got a bottle (of Cardui) and began to take it by the directions and I began to improve after a few doses. My general condition was so much better after the first bottle that I got another, and another, until I had taken six. Now I am a well woman.

"Cardui is a great medicine. Since I took it I feel like a new woman. I had had female trouble for years. I am glad to recommend to other women a medicine which has helped me."
